

Snuggles For Seals

Silver Award Project
Shelby Turner
Troop 36

I am working on my Silver Award project for the Pacific Marine Mammal Center in Laguna Beach. The PMMC rescues and rehabilitates injured seals, sea lions and other marine mammals.

For my Silver Award project, I am visiting Yorba Linda troops and showing them how to make tie-blankets (I will bring all the supplies). These blankets help keep the marine mammals warm while they get better. As you can see from the picture, the seals love them!

When visiting your troop, I will also show pictures of the animals at the PMMC, teach how to tell the difference between a seal and a sea lion and also explain about marine life around Southern California and how we can help keep the environment safe for the marine mammals.

And finally, I hope to invite troops to join me when I deliver the blankets to the Pacific Marine Mammal Center (Spring 2010). During this visit, it will be possible for Brownie troops to earn the Marine Life Try-It and for Junior troops to earn the Flippers, Fins & Flukes badge.

I am booking dates to meet with troops beginning in January 2010 until March 2010. If you are interested in delivering the blankets with me and/or earning the Try-It or Badge, please let me know when you book your appointment.

I can be contacted at 714-970-3931 or msgirl99@sbcglobal.net.
